TELLS OLD SOLDIERS THAT THEY SHOULD AID IN ENDING ALL POSSIBILITY OF WAR.

IS WARMLY GREETED

Large Audience Present to Greet Chief Executive on Last Day of His Visit in Kansas.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Topeka, Kan., Sept. 27.—President Taft arrived at five this morning and spent six hours and a half in Topeka today. The presidential party were driven to the country club for breakfast and later he dedicated the Soldiers' Memorial at Washburn college.

The remainder of the program here included a parade and laying a cornerstone at the soldiers' memorial building and an address.

The president's main address was made from a stand in front of the state capital before which it is estimated forty thousand people were massed.

He addressed himself to the Grand Army men of Kansas and discussed the part which the state played in the civil war.

The president invoked the assistance of the men who saw war to use their influence to bring about an end of war by arbitration treaties with the world.

Insurgents Anxious.
The Kansas insurgents are clearly aligned against President Taft, say many prominent leaders. The Kansas Insurgents today were certain that Senator Darrow, La Follette's leader in the state, in his speech yesterday served notice on the president that the insurgents will go seeking relief in their own way, which is not Taft's way.

Despite the fact that big crowds have greeted him in Kansas, insurgents declared today he has not strengthened himself by his speeches.

Curtis With Taft.
Senator Curtis of Kansas, on leaving Topeka, where President Taft also made an appeal for support of his arbitration treaties, declared he would help the treaties in the senate. "I am convinced that a large majority of people of Kansas and of the country as well as for arbitration," he said, "and I am not concerned with only such changes as will in no wise affect their character of efficiency."

Immense Crowd.
It was the highest crowd that the president has talked to on the trip and he stood on top of a table to enable more of the throng to hear him. 4,000 school children were ranged on the capital steps behind him. He talked of the bloody history of Kansas and reviewed the war, talking to the Grand Army veterans who made up part of the big crowd.

To Accompany Taft on Iowa Trip.
Council Bluffs, Ia., Sept. 27.—Upon the arrival of his special train here early tomorrow morning President Taft will be met by Governor Carroll, Senator Kenyon and several of the members of the Iowa congressional delegation. The entire party will accompany the president on his Iowa tour, which will occupy two entire days and include stops in half a dozen or more of the leading cities of the state.

Watermelon for Taft.
Webster City, Ia., Sept. 27.—The biggest and ripest watermelon ever seen in this section will be cut for President Taft when he stops off here tomorrow for the annual observance of Watermelon Day. The president's stay necessarily will be a very brief one, but Webster City expects his visit to be one of the most memorable events in the history of the town. The watermelon feast will be held in the city park and it is expected the president will deliver a short address.

Watermelon Ready for the President.
Waterloo, Ia., Sept. 27.—A committee headed by Congressman C. E. Pickett has completed all arrangements for the reception and entertainment of President Taft tomorrow afternoon and will remain in the city until the following morning, when he will leave for Des Moines. Upon arrival he will proceed directly to the East Side park, where he will deliver an address. An automobile tour of the city will follow the demonstration in the park and in the evening there will be a reception and banquet.

DARROW SILENT AS TO PLANS IN THE M'NAMARA TRIAL

[BY UNITED PRESS.] Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 27.—Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, for the McNamara, today declined to state positively whether he expects to ask for a change of venue when the trial of the McNamara on the charge of dynamiting the Los Angeles Times building. District Attorney Fredericks announced that the state was prepared to oppose a change of venue bitterly.

Immense Crowd.
It was the highest crowd that the president has talked to on the trip and he stood on top of a table to enable more of the throng to hear him. 4,000 school children were ranged on the capital steps behind him. He talked of the bloody history of Kansas and reviewed the war, talking to the Grand Army veterans who made up part of the big crowd.

MORGAN PLANS TO REMAIN THE KING

CALLS DIRECTORS OF THE STEEL TRUST TOGETHER TO GIVE THEM COURAGE AND PLAN FIGHT.

[BY UNITED PRESS.] New York, Sept. 27.—After coming to the rescue of his railroad shares and outfire stock that in general on last Friday, J. P. Morgan went to his office before the market opened today, prepared to defend his title as financial king. Morgan is determined that there shall be no financial panic precipitated as the result of agitation against great industrial combinations.

It is because of this fact that he personally signed the steel trust declaration of war and defiance from the government. By the power of his name he informed his associates he expected to reassemble investors generally, and that he was correct in his views, was shown by the fact that the London market, open hours before our own, was bullish in the extreme.

The steel trust intends to fight the government. It is understood that at today's meeting of directors, Morgan severely criticized the inference to be drawn from the fact that the highest priced lawyers in the world had passed organization and methods of trust and that it was in a far better position to resist a dissolution suit than other of the big industrial combinations.

By taking this attitude that the trust methods are absolutely legal and within the law, he is reported to have told his associates that the financial situation would be immediately relieved and it was at his suggestion that last night's official statement was made emphatic along these lines.

On account of the many recent hold-ups, robberies and other unlawful actions of the part of the numerous hooligans and other lawbreakers which have caused considerable trouble in the yards and the vicinity of the Chicago & Northwestern roundhouse, a special day policeman has been detailed to see that the law is not broken. This morning when the roundhouse and yard employees came to work they were surprised to see John Lee, familiarly known as "Baldy" wearing a star and also an official look that would cause the boldest thief to turn and run without stopping for a second glance. Of course "Baldy" was very proud of the position which he now holds and the prevailing feeling among the numerous men employed there is that unless a much bigger man than "Baldy" starts some "monkey business," that everything during the day-time will be serene and peaceful. Lee formerly was chief dispatcher until put at this new line of duty.

SUBSTITUTE FOUND TO REPLACE COAL

Nile Weeds Put Through Drying Process Is Found To Be Rather Satisfactory.

The following article is taken from a recent issue of the Railway and Locomotive Engineering, and, considering the important part that coal plays in railroad life it should be of interest to all railroad men.

They have found a substitute for coal in Egypt and Sudan. It is nothing more than the Nile weeds. The upper reaches of this river are almost completely blocked with dense masses of vegetation, consisting of the papyrus and other reeds. These weeds are so thick in some places that it is impossible for a steamer to force its way through, and the government has had to constantly dredge the channel.

The work is difficult, and the "studd," as these aquatic weeds are called, is constantly encroaching upon the various channels and a regular fleet of dredges has had to be maintained in order to cope with the situation. Coal is as high as sixteen dollars a ton at Khartoum, and at that point is eight hundred miles from where the dredges operate, so that the discovery of a substitute for coal was very welcome indeed.

The process consists in cutting the reeds from the river, drying them, and then chopping them up into a fine sort of chaff. This is compressed into cakes resembling briquets of brown coal. The studd briquets are about four-fifths of the density of coal briquets, and the heat giving qualities amount to about two-thirds the heat value of the coal briquets. The studd briquets contain forty-six per cent of carbon, about four per cent of hydrocarbon, and six per cent of ash. The heat producing value in per cent is about thirty-three less than coal, but the cost is between thirty-five and forty per cent below that of coal.

A MAGNOLIA WOMAN COMMITTED SUICIDE BY HANGING TODAY

Mrs. Ed. Pfuti, Residing West of Footville, Strangled Herself With Rope Used by Children for a Swing.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Brookland, Sept. 27.—Mrs. Ed. Pfuti, residing in the town of Magnolia, five miles west of Footville, was found by her husband upon his return from the cheese factory at seven o'clock this morning, dead as the result of strangling. The woman had used the rope of a swing which dangled from the limb of an old apple tree in the yard of the home, and as the distance was not long enough for her to hang suspended, she had tied the strands around her neck and then fell forward, choking herself until she died.

It-health is the only cause for the deed which could be determined this morning. Mrs. Pfuti had been suffering from epilepsy for some time past, but upon arising this morning her husband was not aware that she was ill or despondent. He had done the usual morning work and had taken the milk to the John Charley cheese factory which is near their home. When he returned home he found his wife in the condition described.

Mrs. Pfuti is of Swiss descent and is 34 years of age. Besides her husband, she is survived by three small sons, aged four, six and nine years. District Attorney Stanley Dunwiddie was notified of the death this morning. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

Taken to Waupun: Olla Carmichael, who pleaded guilty in the municipal court this morning to larceny and was sentenced by Judge Mifflin to one year in the state's prison, was taken to Waupun this noon by Turnkey Philo Komp.

NERVES ARE ON EDGE, STOMACH OUT OF ORDER

Happiness Does Not Come With This Condition—Tona Vita Brings Back Health.

Half sick, tired all the time, no energy or ambition, with your nerves on edge and your stomach out of order, how can you expect to get any happiness out of life when in such a miserable state?

You can't, and you won't, until you find relief from the debilitated condition that is sapping your vitality and robbing you of your strength.

Physicians know that half the population in the large cities of this country are today afflicted with nervous debility caused by the wear and tear of modern life.

A preparation has been used by European physicians to combat this nervous condition with remarkable success. A similar preparation "Tona Vita" was introduced in this country a few months ago and is making a marvelous record here. "Tona Vita" is bringing back health and happiness to thousands of listless, debilitated men and women. You owe it to your family, you owe it to yourself to let this wonderful new tonic build you up. There is no other medicine like it on earth; one dose will convince any one of this. If "Tona Vita" doesn't do more for you than all the other medicines you have ever taken, if it doesn't make you happier and healthier and better in every way, what you pay for it will be returned to you by the Smith Pharmacy.

Lee's Rhubarb Laxative, the assistant remedy, is another great medicine. It is a splendid family laxative, containing the medicinal properties of rhubarb—nature's own laxative. It will not injure the most delicate constitution and should be used for children above everything else. It is pleasant to the taste.

The Smith Pharmacy has the Janesville agency for "Tona Vita" and Lee's Rhubarb Laxative.

ing was spent in talking to the high school pupils and the remainder of the day was given to lecturing at the various schools of the city. The inception of temperance principals among the young being the keynote of Scientific Temperance.

OUR DUMB ANIMALS.
"Our Dumb Animals" is the name of a little paper founded in Boston in 1848 by Geo. T. Angel, who conducted it for more than forty years, devoting time and money to a kingdom largely neglected.

This work of philanthropy, so well established by Mr. Angel, is now carried on by "The American Humane Education society, whose slogan is, "We speak for those that cannot speak for themselves," and much good is being accomplished through organized effort all through the New England states. The last number of the paper contains the following prayer for a pup, which may lack the stamp of orthodoxy, and yet which is suggestive of human sympathy.

"Great God of Dogs:
"Seated on thy regal throne in the high heavens, where ruddy Sirius flames; with all thy angel pack about thee, running to do thy bidding—St. Bernards and all the other canine saints, collies, setters, mastiffs, and Great Danes, dogs who gained Heaven through much loving and profound devotion, a noble brood, heroes of flame and flood—
"Great God of Dogs, look down and hear my humble prayer.

"Outside thy portals this gray morn a little stranger waits, an Alfrede terror, nine months old, big-footed, awkward-limbed, rough-coated, with stubby tail held upright, wagging rapidly, ears cocked, and brown eyes full of innocent inquiry and pained surprise at his strange plight, pleading dumbly for admittance.

"That's Dusty Rhodes. He died last night in undeserved pain. His little spirit passed beyond our ken. No more our door is opened to his plaintive whine. Great God of Dogs, I pray thee, let him in.

"And if he cannot read his title clear to kennels in the skies, I pray thee grant him mercy. If in his record thou dost read much mischief and some disobedience, forget not his unsullied heart, his sweet and gentle disposition; no trace of viciousness did darken his young life, no evil mood, nor any least resentment. He teased our cat, but it was only play; he would have loved him like a brother if he could. And if on such and such a day he misbehaved and hooded not the bidding of his mistress, on that same day he licked the chastising hand, and all was soon forgiven and forgot.

"There be no deeds of valor to record; but he was young. He came of noble lineage; his little heart was true. Be merciful, I pray, and let him in.

"His little collar hangs upon a nail, and even the little whip, the sight of which chastises us today. He has no home. We cannot bear that he should wander there in outer darkness, unpatted and unloved. Is there no place in all wide Heaven for him? Is there no loving hand to take his proffered paw? I pray thee, let him in.

"And if there be an angel child or two whose time may well be spared, some cherub who can understand a dog, who loves to play, I pray thee to entrust him to his keeping. He will repay the care. Across the Elysian fields he'll romp and run; and if some angel stops and smiles and speaks his name, as neighbors did on earth, then there will sound the bark of pure delight that we shall hear no more, no more; and Heaven will hear a joyful noise that day.

"Great God of Dogs, outside thy pearly gates this little stranger stands and begs the simplest boon. He only asks for someone he may love. Great God of Dogs, wilt thou not take him in?"

TOO MUCH TALK.
A recent writer suggests that nine teen centuries ago, when a large multitude believed the food supply was exhausted, it raised its voice in wailing and protest. There were a good many thousands present, and it did not look as if five loaves and two small fishes would go far among so many. They could not count upon the miracle that followed. But the first command has some bearing on parallel events today. It was "Make the men sit down." The clamor was

The parable is then applied to conditions existing today in this country when everybody, from the president down, is talking at once and nobody listening. Colonel Roosevelt set the pace for speech-making and his special messages were so numerous that they lost weight, and he talked in and out of season on every conceivable topic. "May it be asked, with the deepest respect, whether it would not be better for the interests of the country that the president should curtail his speech-making tour and take up the urgent administrative duties awaiting him at Washington? In the present alarmed state of the public mind the relations of the country with the corporations raise a question perhaps as grave as any we have faced since the Civil war. Mr. Taft's good faith is high above all cavil or suspicion. But if his predecessor's perambulatory eloquence was disturbing, that of Mr. Taft is not reassuring. Many of us believe that the public mind would be greatly relieved if he said nothing at all, and impressed a similar discretion upon the members of his cabinet. "To few of us is it given to preach save by example. In a time of turbulence and discontent the sobriest utterances are misinterpreted. Let us formulate a self-denying ordinance, in which the president himself can be the great and dignified example. Let us still a clamor which helps nobody and settles nothing. Let us "make the men sit down."

CHILD HER HAND.

She asked me to, and an of course, I simply had to hold her hand. "The thing required no show of force. Because I really had the hand. I'd always thought, I'd always heard to hold a hand like hers would be the finest job that ever occurred; A dream of bliss and ecstasy. I had expected to be thrilled. "This did not prove to be the case. With fond, anticipations chilled, I found it very commonplace. No romance stirred within my heart. When I did feel her hand in mine; No wish to change my bachelor's part; No love described as superfluous. The pleasure in the thing was small. To tell the truth I feel compelled. You see, she was not there at all. It was her hand at bridge I held.

HOARDED EARNINGS
DEPOSITED IN BANK

Coins Hidden In Secret Places By Persons Who Mistrust Savings Banks Drawn From Hiding Places.

With the opening of the United States Postal Bank in this city there has been a slow but steady flow of savings deposited, averaging about $75 to $100 per day. It is estimated that much of this money is drawn from hiding places where it has been hoarded by persons who lacked knowledge or confidence in the local banking institutions.

That such is the case is at least partially proven by the fact that several depositors have been turned away from the postal savings window for the reason that their deposits were over $100, more than the law allowed to be left in the bank at one time by any one person. This money in all probability had been kept in some secret place and the owner believed that the government would be the only agency to be trusted.

Aided from this class of depositors, there are the persons whose savings are small and who desire to put them in a safe place as soon as they have several dollars. This is perhaps the strongest argument that has been advanced in favor of the postal bank, as it will encourage thrift and tend to prevent extravagance.

While the deposits at the local bank have not totalled a very large amount to date, it is the opinion of the authorities, that deposits will increase as soon as people have acquired the habit, and the time will be when the savings window will nearly as popular as the stamp and general delivery. In many ways the new institution fulfills a long felt want in this and every community.

Took Nuptial Vows Before Dean Reilly At An Early Hour This Morning.

Shortly after five o'clock this morning occurred the wedding of M. A. Crowley and Miss Helen M. Storm, the service being performed by Dean Reilly at St. Patrick's church. Morris J. McCarthy attended the groom and Miss Katherine Crowley, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Only a few relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Crowley left on the 5:40 train for a short honeymoon trip after which they will either make their home in Janesville or Fond du Lac, the exact place not being determined. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Storm, and has many friends in this city. Mr. Crowley is the only son of Mrs. John Crowley, 1112 Racine Street, and has been employed as an engineer on the Northwestern road for a number of years. His run at present is between Janesville and Fond du Lac.

The Skin and Not the Blood.

Until recently it has been a generally accepted proposition that eczema, vas, a disease of the blood, and that in order to cure it, the blood must be purified and enriched by internal remedies. Careful experiments and scientific investigations have taught us that eczema is purely skin disease, and curable through the skin alone. A great majority of persons afflicted with eczema have no other ailment, which is accepted as positive proof that it is purely a skin disease. Having established this fact, the chemists of the American Drug and Press Association set about to compound a prescription that would successfully cope with this disease, and after much investigating brought out Meritol Eczema Remedy, the effect of which is marvelous. If you are afflicted with this loathsome disease, do not delay trying Meritol Eczema Remedy. You will be surprised at its prompt action, its soothing effect and its permanent results. Reliable Drug Co. are commissioned by the association to sell it in Janesville.

SPEEDY TRIAL FOR CONFESSED THIEF

Olla Carmichael, Arraigned, Pleading Guilty and Sent to Prison For One Year For Stealing Clothes Yesterday.

A speedy trial and sentence was accomplished in the case of the state of Wisconsin against Olla Carmichael, who was charged with stealing a black suit, dark coat, a pair of tan shoes and a razor and other small articles belonging to Edward Holden from a room in the Highland House at 236 East Milwaukee street. Carmichael was arraigned shortly after ten o'clock today, asked to be allowed to plead guilty and within a half hour had received sentence from the court. He was given one year at hard labor in the state prison at Waupun, the minimum sentence for larceny.

Carmichael was arrested yesterday by the police and had the stolen property on him. He was wearing the shoes and was forced to appear before the court in his stocking feet. The shoes being included in the pile of stuff used as "evidence." The total value of the goods taken was fixed at $25.50. The prisoner waived his examination saying, "I plead guilty," and the trial was set for October 3 with bail fixed at $500. It was explained to Carmichael that if he desired he could plead at once, so the defendant filed a petition asking for an immediate trial. The information in the case was filed by District Attorney Stanley S. Danville and Carmichael pleaded guilty. Overindulgence in whiskey was given as the cause for his act.

Carmichael gave his age as forty years old and said he came from Terre Haute, Ind., but does not appear to be more than thirty years of age. He came to Janesville in June and has been working in and around Janesville since then. The theft was committed yesterday morning between seven o'clock and noon while the workmen who board at the Highland House were away at work.

Didn't Cook Right.

The trial of Lawrence J. Hinkle of Edgerton, who is charged with abandoning his wife, Bertha Hinkle, and two year old son, Archie Hinkle, was held open a week and may be settled by Hinkle agreeing to pay a certain sum weekly toward the support of his wife and child. In the meantime the district attorney will confer with Mrs. Hinkle to see what arrangements can be made. It is alleged that when Archie left her he left a note behind saying he went away because his wife did not cook his meals right and did not darn his socks right. Hinkle was held to trial in the municipal court from Justice North's court.

Case Adjourned.
The case against John Malizzo, the young Italian boy, who was charged with stealing potatoes, was adjourned a week.

OBITUARY.

Herbert Dick, the eleven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dick, 909 Riverside street, passed away about eleven o'clock this morning, after a short illness. Funeral arrangements have not been made. Herbert Dick was a most lovable little chap and with his brother was one of the Gazette paper carriers. Both he and his brother were at work on Saturday last and the sympathy of all who know the little fellow goes out to his family, who are left to mourn his loss.

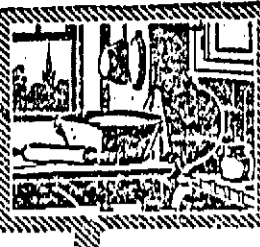

It took an organized body of stove experts nearly fifty years to perfect it. There is no other Base Burner like it, because the features that make it such a wonderful and economical heater are patented. It is the most attractive and best made stove, too.

In the Triple exposed Flues you will find one reason why it will save fully one half on your coal bills. But there are many other reasons—too many to mention here.

Come and see us, and we will show you that there is no other base burner that will compare with the Favorite.

SUGAR BEET HARVEST
DELAYED BY RAIN

Wet Weather Prevents Beets From Maturing and Factory Cannot Open Before October 10.

Unless the weather dries within a short time the sugar beet harvest will be exceedingly late this year. The beets are very slow maturing in wet ground and already the crop has been put back a great deal. As far as is known at the present time the factory will not start working on the present crop until the tenth of October, at the earliest, and in all probability, it will be later than that. At this time there are about five hundred men in the fields and as soon as the factory opens for the fall run there will be at least four hundred employed in the factory itself.

A new weed cutter and sand remover have been installed at the end of the canal through which the beets come into the factory from the sheds and this machine will remove all the foreign substances from the beets before they pass into the washer and cutting machines.

out and others are rising to lofty attitudes. Crabapples are an unknown quantity, Niagara grapes cannot be found very readily and Damson plums are scarce all over the country. Peach eggs are bringing 25 cents now and creamery butter has been raised from one to two cents a pound. Dairy butter is mostly very poor both in quality and price. Although there is a large variety of pears, both eating and canning, they are increasing in price rapidly and in all probability will not last very much longer.

TEACHERS' PENSION
LAW IS EXPLAINED
IN RECENT LETTER

Many Inquiries Received Are Answered
in Statement Made By Asistant State Superintendent.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Sept. 27.—The teachers' retirement fund and pension law, which has been in effect in this state since Sept. 1, is the subject of a flood of inquiries from school boards all over the state, by whom its various provisions are not well understood.
These inquiries have been answered in a circular letter explaining the law.
The essential features of the law were outlined today by James B. Borden, assistant state superintendent of public instruction, in the following statement:

"Chapter 323, laws of 1911, otherwise known as the teachers' pension law, recognizes two classes of persons. The first class includes all persons, no matter how little or how much experience they may have had.

"The law is permissive in respect to all persons in class 1, and mandatory upon all persons in class 2. School boards must not withhold any portion of the salary of persons in class 1 unless notified in writing before Sept. 1, 1912, that such teachers wish to come under the provisions of this law. Unless persons in this class notify the board in writing before that date, they need not contribute and cannot at any time hereafter become beneficiaries under the act.

"School boards must withhold a certain percentage of the monthly salary of all persons in class 2 who teach after September 1, 1911. The law is mandatory upon all persons in class 2, whether or not they desire to take advantage of the law.

"All persons coming under the provisions of the act who have taught ten years or less, must contribute one per cent of their monthly salary, provided that no one person shall contribute more than $15 in any one year.
All persons coming under the provisions of this act who have taught more than ten and less than twenty-six years must contribute two per cent of their monthly salary, provided that no one person shall contribute more than $30 in any one year.

"School boards are directed to withhold monthly the percentage fixed and to give the teachers a statement of the amount so withheld at the time the monthly salary is paid.

"This law does not apply to the city of Milwaukee, but affects teachers in all other public schools in the state, including rural, graded and high schools.

"In computing the length of time a person has taught, not more than seven years may be counted for work in other than the public schools and in schools in the city of Milwaukee or in other states.

"After a person has made twenty-five annual contributions to the fund, his payments shall cease even though he remains longer in the service as a public school teacher.

"School district treasurers shall retain the amount so withheld from the school year, whereupon it shall be forwarded to the town or city treasurer, and by that official forwarded to the several county treasurers, by whom the fund so collected shall be remitted to the state treasurer."

Dry Farmers in Convention.
Abilene, Tex., Sept. 27.—The second annual meeting of the Central West Dry Farming Congress opened here today with several hundred men interested in raising grain and vegetables without rainfall, present. The session will last two days during which time a number of agricultural experts and practical farmers will explain to the convention what dry farming methods can accomplish under seemingly adverse conditions.

Gave Bridge Party.
Misses Lee and Venice Thompson last night gave a bridge party at their home on Hollis street, which was participated in by sixteen young ladies.
A most pleasant time was enjoyed and the affair was brought to a close with the serving of dainty refreshments.

confined to his home for a week or more with illness and to make the time an even two weeks he is enjoying a brief vacation. He will enter on duty again Monday next. Julius William, a brother, is filling the place.

consequence of which his market is closed a portion of the time.

ing, shattering it to pieces. No other particular damage was done.

A GOOD COUGH CURE

Do you remember the good old cough cure mother used to have? It didn't taste like cherry pie but it did cure a cough in a hurry. Mr. Plonk, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, makes our cough balsam by percolation direct from the roots, barks and balsams of wild cherry, bloodroot, lobelia, white pine bark. Thoroughly obtaining the full medicinal virtue and strength of each drug, making it into a syrup we call Badger Cough Balsam. It is made after an old prescription which is today the best cure for any cough, bronchitis or lung trouble, healing and soothing to the irritated throat and lungs, it cures by assisting to expel the phlegm from the lungs, not by dealing the system with morphine and chloroform as do the modern patent cough remedies, deadening the nervous system, stupifying the lungs and retaining the mucous, thereby bringing on possible pneumonia and pleurisy. Badger Cough Balsam is a trustworthy expectorant. It loosens up and expels the phlegm. Get a bottle today for yourself or the children. It's safe to use, 25c. Badger Drug Co., Milwau-visit to America. Mr. Walker has been engaged to play the leading role in Robert Hichens' "Garden of Allah," on his production in New York next month by Lieble and Company.

siding.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

If a carpenter should work for years with a dull tool, and offer as his only explanation that he could not afford to have it sharpened, you would answer him: "But, surely you lose more money by having it dull so that you cannot do as much work."

Wouldn't you?

And yet, maybe you are doing the very same thing. I know hundreds of people who are.

The dull tool is some foolish little habit, which daily hampers and hinders them in their work.

The effort it would cost them to overcome it cannot possibly be equal to the effort they have to make every day to overcome the difficulties and hindrances it causes them.

A newspaper showed me his notebook the other day. It was a very neat affair, filled with carefully written, thoroughly legible notes. Having seen his notes on previous occasions, when they consisted of impossible scrawls on stray scraps of paper, I expressed my astonishment at the change and inquired how it came about.

"Well, you see, Mike Cameron," he explained, "I got tired of hunting out those scraps of paper and spending a lot of time trying to make out what I'd written and then throwing them away and writing my story from memory and making a dozen mistakes. I decided it didn't pay, and I've been keeping my notes, so I can read them the last few months, and you don't know how much time and trouble it saves."

There was a man who realized how much more it cost to use a dull tool than to have it sharpened.

What's your dull tool?

Perhaps it's a cluttered desk that costs you as much time every day hunting for something as it would take to clean up the whole desk.

Perhaps it's a slovenly habit of dress or a carelessness about your finger nails that repulses more people against you than you can win back by all your sterling worth of brain and character.

Perhaps it's a carelessness about your health—a habit of eating too little every day hunting and reaching for things than it would take you to eat the whole place in legend and helpful order.

Perhaps it's a carelessness about your health—a habit of eating too rapidly, or not walking enough, or not drinking sufficient water that costs you very disproportionately in efficiency and ability.

Perhaps you have none.

But if you are my old friend, the "average man or woman," I very much doubt it.

MOTHER'S CORNER

BY JULIA CHANDLER.

"All that I am, or ever hope to be, I owe to my Mother."

—Abraham Lincoln.

SINCE the invitation was extended to the mothers who read this paper to talk over their perplexities with me, I have had more letters telling me many things. In thinking them over, I am sure that the most dominant note is contained in the question:

"What shall I say to my children when they ask questions upon delicate subjects?"

It has been my observation that a child will not voluntarily ask a question until he or she is mentally and morally ready to receive the answer to that question.

I believe it is the wisest way to explain what our children ask us—explain in clear, simple words, without foolish embarrassment. Be sure, however, that both the question asked and the answer given is understood.

For it is quite possible that our children are voicing a question picked up from some other child, in which case it is probable that the question itself is not even understood. We should make sure that they know just what it is they want to know.

It is not well to leave the young mind muddled when once it has been awakened to inquiry, for if mother refuses to answer a natural, simple question she may be sure that there are older playmates who will not refuse.

"I evade their questions upon life's mysteries," said one mother to me.

Evasion is even more harmful than a direct refusal to answer, for the very evasion arouses an abnormal curiosity of mind in the child, which would not otherwise exist. It places the subject in question in a false light. Mother may have no evidence of the child's intention at the time, but she may be sure that he will seek information who has not given him from a less reliable source—from some one who may, perhaps, deprecate a sacred subject.

In addition to this it is the child's right to ask mother what he (or she) wishes to know, and it is his equal right to receive a straightforward answer from her, for she is the keeper of the Garden of his Mind, responsible to God for the seed that is sown. Will not God hold her if the garden grows up with wrong impressions—words that choke out the flowers of thought?

And there is a danger, dear Sowers of the Seed—a danger of planting your seed before you have prepared your soil.

The boy asks mother a question upon a certain subject—or maybe it is the little daughter who asks. That in itself proves that his mind is sufficiently mature to understand her answer.

It does not follow, however, that he can understand everything his mother knows upon the subject. It is unwise, therefore, to explain more than is asked. Don't answer what he does not ask. Rest assured if mother has not led to him in the first instance, he will return to her with his questions when the soil in the Garden of his Mind is ready for further seed.

Other questions may follow the first one in quick succession, which is well. It is proof that the first seed has taken root. But to answer those further questions before they are asked is forcing the garden—planting seed before the soil is ready for them.

Every mother's individual way of answering these intimate questions of her children is the best way for that mother's children. I do not presume to ask any mother to adopt any other mother's way.

But I do presume to beg for the children the same frankness and honesty upon delicate topics that they would receive in any other perfectly natural subject.

For if, by mother's manner, it is suggested to the child-minded that she has either lied to him, or evaded him, or told him less than he asked, he will take particular pains to find some other child who will give him the information he should have had only from his mother.

To Repair a Map.

A good preparation to use in replacing the pieces which have fallen off the cotton of the map may be made as follows: Heat up a paste of rice flour and add to it good glue in proportion of one-quarter the weight of the flour. Mix well; spread lightly on the cotton, and carefully align the torn pieces.

The Wealthy Ones of Earth.

Taking into account Australia and all of the islands of the tropical seas, the world may have 10,000 millionaires, outside of North America and Europe. Russia excluded. The United States alone must have more millionaires than the total for continents which contain two-thirds of the people in the world.

The Kitchen Cabinet

MELONS, MUSK AND WATER.

To the true melon lover nothing added in the way of flavor to a ripe, rich melon improves it. A melon, either musk or water melon, should be thoroughly chilled before serving. Water melon scooped from the pink deliciousness with an ice cream scoop and served on well-washed grape leaves makes a delightful dessert.

When wanted to take the place of a preserve for tea, musk melon may be cut in dice and sprinkled with a grating of nutmeg, and sugar and a few drops of lemon juice. Such a dish will not go begging.

Water Melon Sherbet.—Scrape the ripe pulp from the melon, saving all the juice; to two quarts of the mixture add a cup of sugar and a cup of finely chopped nutmeg; freeze, and when partly frozen stir in the beaten whites of two eggs and finish freezing. A little lemon juice added before freezing improves the flavor.

A most delicious dessert when one has company and wants an extra attractive dessert is prepared as follows: Cut ripe musk melons in halves crosswise, remove the seeds and fill with vanilla ice cream; decorate with almonds dipped in chocolate to resemble seeds and serve on plates covered with grape leaves.

Water Melon Pickles.—Peel and cut the melon rind into small pieces and put them into a stone jar; sprinkle with salt and let them stand overnight. To every pound of melon allow a half pound of sugar, a pint of vinegar and stick of cinnamon, and cloves to taste. Cook the ingredients together, then add the melon, which has been parboiled until tender in clear water. Add to the sirup and scald. Then put away in a jar covered with a cloth.

Preserved Melon Rind.—Peel and chop the rind, then cook together with onions sliced with seeds removed. Add three-fourths of a pound of sugar to a pound of fruit and cook in the sirup until clear. Fill the jars with the preserve, pour over the hot sirup and seal when cool.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

WHEN THE CRESCENT WENT DOWN BEFORE THE CROSS

By A. W. MACY.

It will soon be twelve centuries since the Cross and the Crescent met in deadly combat in the beautiful valley of the Loire, in France, and the Crescent went down in ignominious defeat. Mahomet had been dead a hundred years, but his worshippers were pressing forward with fanatical zeal, and bid fair to conquer the earth. They had invaded Persia and Syria, and had pressed into Egypt. Thence they had swarmed into Spain, laying waste its towns and cities with fire and sword. And now they were overrunning France in plundering hordes, dealing death and destruction to the inhabitants. Against them went Charles Martel, until then a petty Frankish king. He was able to master only a few thousand soldiers, picked up here and there; but they were made of stern stuff, and were defending their homes. For two days the battle raged—some accounts say seven days—and at its close many thousands of Saracens lay dead, while the rest were in terror-stricken flight. It was a marvelous victory, and it rolled back the tide of Moslem conquest. But for it, Mohammedanism might have overrun Europe, and set back the hands of progress a thousand years.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

One of the Helps to a Charming Home.

THE fine art of home-making is built up of many things. The furnishings are quite as important as the cuisine, and the right atmosphere is as essential as either. The one who goes into a home furnished artistically, no matter how delicious may be the food served, nor how genial the atmosphere, does not have the sense of complete satisfaction in it that he would have were the furnishings a delight to the eye. In the perfect home, there is no jarring note, so that the woman who is anxious to make this sort of home, needs to study every detail. Nothing is too small to contribute to the making or marring of the effect desired. And, as has been said, one has to build up the perfect home of many perfect details.

One of the things that helps give a pleasing and harmonious effect is the right choice of draperies. If the home has a nondescript collection of draperies, all different, all inharmonious, it is difficult to make that home appear restful to the eye. And if it disturbs the eye, it will inevitably disturb the spirit.

Draperies in soft, unobtrusive colors are best for the ordinary home. Where the house is small and the eye quickly passes from one room to the next, one should be conscious only of some softly colored fabric at the door or window that melts unobtrusively into the color scheme of the vista. If the eye is arrested at this doorway by something striking, and at the doorway beyond by another noticeable effect, it is like being startled by successive unexpected exclamations. And effects that put one's nerves on the jump, so to speak, are not artistic.

When buying draperies for the home, these quiet effects seem, to many, too simple and unobtrusive. In the shop, away from the other furnishings of the home, these things look very plain, and so the home-maker selects something gayer or more fancy. But when she gets her selection home, she finds the effect quite different. These gay things are, in the home, "spotty," or funny, while those which seemed plain would have been restful and artistic.

In building the Home Beautiful, study carefully the matter of draperies. Do not think that these are a small detail that will not count for much in the general effect. The wrong draperies can detract much from the effect of fine furniture or beautiful pictures, and the right draperies can add much to the beauty-value of the simplest furnishings. If you wish to take a degree in the fine art of home-making, let the portieres and other draperies slip perfectly into your scheme of furnishings, so that you will feel their beauty of color and charm of line without scarcely being conscious of their individuality.

Thought for Today

MRS. ROBERT M. LAFOLLETTE.

NEW EDUCATION.

THESE are days of educational unrest that promise the transformation of the public school from a place of routine lessons, recitations, and examinations to a busy center of preparation for life.

Early in our history the school was an adjunct to the home. Only the rudiments were taught, and school days were a small part of the average child's life. As we prospered the school system was exalted and extended. Today from kindergarten to college, through professional training, occupies twenty years' time. And oh, what years, twenty to twenty-five—life's springtime!

We were complacent and assumed our educational plan would produce the smartest folk on earth. We did not ask if mental drill and school discipline would be the equivalent of natural education—experience, contact with things, with the world, with life. We were common, produced men and women of great forward power. When children tired of school and could not see the use, growings rebelled them for failure to appreciate their great advantage. But the fruits of the system finally disclosed its weakness. It was found that the average American child left school at the sixth grade, with no preparation for self-support, without habits of industry, or ideals of life.

Teaching dependent children useful occupations along with the school regime started the educational revival. It demonstrated that the household arts, agriculture, trades, and primitive occupations employing hands and brain made better scholars than academic study alone. Results of experiment and research have forced even stand-pat educators to see that health, manual training, music, art, entertainment, are more human needs than so much arithmetic and algebra.

The new education, the new school will not be twenty years' secondary book grub. It will train in all the arts of living, teach rich and poor and well-to-do the pride of self-support, the joy of usefulness, the power of efficiency.

COMPOSITION OF CREAM.

Water	74.0
Protein	2.5
Fat	18.5
Ash	0.5
Carbohydrates	4.5

Fuel value 805 calories per pound

The solid part of cream contains, besides fat, a small percentage of protein, mineral and milk sugar, but it would not long support the life of the infant, although its heat and energy value is nearly three times that of milk. It is the most easily digested of all fats, being "saponified" to a high degree, its minute globules intermixed with air, so that the digestive juices easily penetrate it. It makes a suitable combination with bananas or with rice or toast, for an invalid, supplying the fat which is deficient in those, and sufficient protein for an adult.

The bewitching bonnichon is the latest thing in millinery.

This dainty confection is of Parisian origin and American adoption. It has been introduced to wear with lingerie gowns and to take the place of a hat with theatre or lawn party costumes. Indeed, it may be worn with any smart and pretty toilette.

The one shown in the picture has a foundation of lace net with feathery frills of lace and little pink roses. At one side the roses are grouped so as to form a buckle shape. The bonnichon is youthful, becoming and dressy. In the gown shown in the picture the Russian motif is charmingly emphasized. The material is with black and white striped marquisette. The tunic, in Russian style also, is of delicate color, in such a manner as to bring out the rose note in the trimming design.

Burnt Sugar Cake.
Put one cup of sugar in a pan on the stove and burn till dark brown, stirring constantly; when brown add about one-half cup boiling water and flour. Take one and a half cups sugar, one-half cup butter, two and a half cups flour, two and a half teaspoons baking powder, yolks of three eggs, one cup of water; flavor with vanilla and add four or five teaspoons of burnt sugar; lastly add the beaten whites of the eggs. Bake in four layers. Make the ordinary white frosting filling and add the rest of the burnt sugar.

Mutton Kidneys.
Cut some mutton kidneys, open down the center. Do not separate them; peel and pass a skewer across them to keep them open, season and dip them in melted butter, broil over a clear fire, doing the cut side first; remove the skewers, have ready a little butter mixed with some chopped parsley, salt, pepper and a little lemon juice and a dash of nutmeg, put a small piece of this butter in the center of each kidney and serve hot.

Vassar Fudge.
To make the plain Vassar fudge, take two cups of white granulated or soft brown sugar and one cup thick cream. Put this over the fire, and when it gets hot add a quarter cup of chocolate, grated or broken in the pieces. Stir constantly and vigorously; when it reaches the boiling point add a tablespoon butter and keep stirring until a little poured on a saucer cools with heating. Take from fire, beat until cool and pour in buttered tins.

THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me, and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. OLLIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache do not neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

Wash your clothes with GOLD DUST

Good soap washes clothes well—if you use enough elbow grease, but Gold Dust washes them more thoroughly—and with little or no rubbing. Gold Dust saves half your time, and spares your poor back.

Another great advantage of Gold Dust—use any kind of water you like. Gold Dust softens the hardest water, and makes it soft as rain water.

Gold Dust is just a vegetable-oil soap in powdered form, with other cleansing ingredients added to make it work more thoroughly and quickly than soap ever can.

Just try Gold Dust next wash-day, and see how much time you save.

Gold Dust is sold in 5c size and large packages. The large package means greater economy.

SCALLOPS FOR UNDERWEAR.

These are effective scallops for underwear. The edge is padded, then closely buttonholed. In the upper design the flowers are worked solid, and the dots are eyelets. In the lower one, the curved lines are done in the out line stitch. Mercerized cotton, No. 25, is used.

RADICAL CHANGES AS TO WEIGHT OF COMMODITIES SOLD

NEW STATE LAW INAUGURATES IMPORTANT CHANGES IN MEASURING STANDARDS.

CONSUMER IS GAINER

Substitution of Weight Rule for Cubic Estimates Insures a Square Deal to All.

Residents of Janesville have not realized until this week that the last legislature passed a most comprehensive law as to weights and measures which became effective on July 7th last but which has not been enforced rigidly in Janesville until Monday of this week. The law among other features legislates out of office the present sealer of weights and measures, John Richardson, and places his office under civil service rules. The new sealer of weights and measures to be appointed after a competitive examination by the mayor.

It not only affects the grocers' former method of weighing and measuring commodities they sold, but also the milk dealers, coal dealers, hucksters and even wholesalers who ship into the state are forced to comply with the requirements as to size of barrels and boxes in which fruit is shipped in. The penalties for the violations of these laws are most strict and the law it is said will no longer be enforced.

The special reference to the coal dealers is interesting and the section is as follows:

It shall be unlawful to sell or offer to sell in this state any coal, charcoal, or coke in any other manner than by weight. No person, firm, or corporation shall deliver any coal, charcoal, or coke, without each such delivery being accompanied by a delivering ticket and a duplicate thereof, on each of which shall be in ink, or other indelible substance, distinctly expressed in pounds, the gross weight of the load, the tare of the delivery vehicle, and the quantity or quantity of coal, charcoal, or coke, contained in the cart, wagon, or other vehicle used in such deliveries, with the name of the purchaser thereof, and the name of the dealer from whom purchased. One of these tickets shall be surrendered to the sealer of weights and measures upon his demand, for his inspection, and this ticket or weight slip issued by the sealer when the dealer desires to retain the original, shall be delivered to said purchaser of said coal, or his agent, or representative, at the time of the delivery of the fuel; and the other ticket shall be retained by the seller of the fuel. When the buyer carries away the purchase, a delivery ticket showing the actual number of pounds delivered over to the purchaser must be given to the purchaser at the time the sale is made.

Another portion of the law that is important is the penalty for false weight:

Any person, who, by himself or his agent or agent or as the servant or agent of another, shall use or retain in his possession any false weight or measure or any weight or measure or weighing or measuring device to be used in the buying or selling of any commodity or thing which has not been sealed by a sealer of weights and measures within one year; or any person who, by himself or by his servant or agent or as the servant or agent of another, shall sell or expose for sale or keep for the purpose of sale, less than the quantity he represents; or who by himself, or by his servant or agent or as the servant or agent of another, shall use any false weight or measure in buying or selling any commodity or thing, or shall sell or offer or expose for sale or keep for the purpose of sale any commodity in a manner contrary to laws or any person, who, by himself or by his servant or agent or as the servant or agent of another, shall sell or offer to sell or have in his possession for the purpose of selling, any device or machine to be used or calculated to falsify any weight or measure, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not more than three months or a fine of not more than two hundred dollars, upon a first conviction; but, upon a second or subsequent conviction, he shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not more than one year, or by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or both in the discretion of the court; or any person who wilfully with intent to cheat or defraud the buyer or seller of electric current, gas, water or steam shall make or cause to be made or aid in the making of any electric conductor, gas pipe, water pipe, steam pipe, or other instrument or contrivance or any connection as to conduct or supply or intended to conduct or supply electric current, gas, water or steam to any lamp or motor or machine or burner or office or appliance from which such electricity, gas, water, or steam may be consumed or utilized without passing through or being registered by a meter, or any person who shall wilfully use a false meter for the measurement of electric current, gas, water, or steam in the buying or selling of the same, or who shall wilfully obstruct or interfere with the working of any meter used for such purposes, so as to cause or be intended to cause a false registration of the amount of electric current, water, gas, or steam consumed with the intent to cheat or defraud the seller or buyer of such electric current, gas, water, or steam, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not more than one year or by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, but in case the amount of damages occasioned by such cheat or fraud shall not exceed twenty dollars, he shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not more than three months or by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, and in computing the amount of damages, occasioned, the value of such electric current, water, gas, or steam shall be the regular current price therefor, charged to the consumer by the seller thereof. But nothing contained in sections 1653 to 1670, inclusive, shall prohibit the use by any person, or by his servant or agent, in good faith, of any unsealed weight or measure or weighing or measuring device purchased or acquired by such person after the last visit of a sealer to such person for the purpose of inspection and sealing of weights and measures, or any sealed weight or measure or weighing or measuring device in his possession after the expiration of one year next after the last inspection and sealing thereof, provided the said person shall have notified the city sealer in cities subject to the provisions of section 1661, or the superintendent of weights and measures, respectively, in writing, signed by said person, of the fact that he has such weight or measure or weighing or measuring device, giving the number thereof and a general description of the same, and the place where the same may be found for the purpose of inspection, and shall have received a written acknowledgment of said notice, signed by such city sealer or superintendent of weights and measures.

Last week a representative of the state dairy and food commissioner's office at Madison, who has charge of this work under the law, appeared in Janesville and found that its requirements were being violated by local merchants who were ignorant of the law. As a consequence he fixed on Monday last as the date for the law to become effective.

This question of appointing a new sealer of weights and measures will be taken up later with the mayor and common council.

Held Meeting.
In order to inaugurate a complete compliance with the weights and measures act, a meeting of the Janesville grocers was held at Taylor Bros. store last Friday night. This meeting was well attended and the operation of the law was generally discussed in order to fully inform all concerned. There was little argument on the merits or defects of the law for buyer and seller must live up to it whether they like it or not. Nevertheless, the merchants were practically unanimous in the opinion that when the provisions of the law are commonly understood it will be satisfactory to all concerned.

Radical Changes Made.
Radical changes in standards of measurement are made by the new weights and measures act. Whenever any of the articles or commodities mentioned in the law shall be sold by bushel or fractional part thereof, and no special agreement as to its weight is made in writing, the measure shall be ascertained by avoirdupois weight. Standard weights to the bushel for some of the more common commodities are:

Sixty pounds for wheat, potatoes, peas, clover seed, and beans.

Fifty-seven pounds for a bushel of onions.

Fifty-six pounds for Indian corn, rye, flax seed, wrinkled peas, flax seed, rutabagas and tomatoes.

Fifty-four pounds for a bushel of sweet potatoes.

Fifty pounds for corn meal, rye seed, millet seed, beans, green cucumbers, apples, rye meal, carrots, buckwheat, hickory nuts, or fine salt.

Forty-eight pounds for barley or Hungarian grass seed.

Forty-four pounds for a bushel of blue grass seed or red-top seed.

Forty-two pounds for timothy, forty-two pounds for timothy for cattle berries; thirty-four for barley malt; thirty-two for clover seed, twenty-five for dried apples, twenty for bran or oats; twenty for coarse salt or flour; eight pounds for unshelled nuts; and eight for shelled nuts.

For a fractional part of a bushel a fractional part of the above weights shall be required.

Standard Sizes for Milk Bottles.

Standard sizes for milk and cream bottles are required by the law. The approved sizes are half gallon, three pints, one quart, one pint, half pint, one gill. These must be filled full to the bottom of the lip. Slight variations from the standards given are allowed on individual bottles, as stated in the text of the statute. Bottles or jars used for the sale of milk must have clearly blown or otherwise permanently marked on the side of the bottle, the capacity of the bottle and the word "sealed," and in the side or bottom of the bottle the name, initials, or the trade-mark of the manufacturer, and designation number, which designation number shall be different for each manufacturer and may be used in identifying the bottles.

Heavy Fines.

Any manufacturer who sells milk or cream bottles to be used in this state that do not comply as to size and markings with the provisions of the statute is punishable by a penalty of five hundred dollars, and any dealer who uses, for the purpose of selling, milk or cream, jars or bottles purchased after the law takes effect, that do not comply with its requirements as to markings and capacity will be deemed guilty of using false or insufficient measure.

Sealers of weights and measures shall from time to time make tests on individual bottles used by the various firms in the territory over which they have jurisdiction, in order to ascertain whether the above provisions are being complied with.

Standard Berry Boxes.

No more false bottom berry boxes. The state has placed its ban upon them. All sales of berries, cherries, currants, etc. in packages of less than one bushel shall be by the quart, pint, one-half pint dry measure, and all berry boxes sold, offered for sale, or used within the state shall not have a lesser capacity than the sizes specified.

Standard Barrel Weights.

Standard weights for barrel measurement are designated in the statute for flour, potatoes, unshelled nuts, apples, and cranberry barrels must be stamped with the manufacturer's name and the initials "W. S."

Changes Benefit Consumer.

That the new standards of weights and measures will be just to both grocer and customer and in some cases give the customer more for his money than under the old standards is the opinion of the grocers who were approached on the subject yesterday. One stated that it was now hardly possible to get 15 pounds of potatoes, the weight equivalent of a peck, into the paper bags that have been used for that measure.

Some Confusion.

Some confusion has arisen over the operation of the law; farmers not familiar with it bring in produce estimated the old way and are compelled to weigh it, and accept payment for it by the pound. This difficulty will be overcome as soon as the new method becomes familiar. Farmers and hucksters marketing produce from house to house must also comply with the Law.

Sealer Must Be Paid Salary.
The city sealer of weights and measures must hereafter be paid a salary and will not be allowed to charge a fee for inspection or testing of weights, measures, or weighing or measuring devices. His salary is to be fixed by the board authorized to fix the salaries of city officials and he is to be provided with suitable office quarters. The sealer is to be appointed by the mayor from a list furnished by the state or local civil service board and under the rules of the board. He must keep a complete record of the work done by him, and make an annual report to the mayor, and another sworn report to the state superintendent of weights and measures. He must also give a bond on his appointment.

SALAD WITH CHEESE

MANY WAYS IT MAY BE SERVED TO SUIT THE TASTE.

Every Variety Has Its Especial Form.
—Glass Topped Dishes With Silver Bands the Delight of Up-to-Date Hostesses.

As well imagine a Punch without Judy as salad without cheese. Its absence makes the best mayonnaise or French dressing wanting in flavor. The hostess without imagination accepts the salad and cheese dictum, but does not glorify it. There are housekeepers who buy cakes of cream cheese—phoosque, Edam, Roquefort, Gorgonzola, Brie, even the common American product—and then serve the choice of the family year in and out.

It is cut in the square chunks, passed on the same plate with the same water thin, butter thin or salted water in dreary monotony.

Variety is the spice of salad as well as of life, and great is the variety in which cheese can be served.

If taste is conservative and the family will not eat but one kind of cheese, then vary the service. Fascinating are the new services. There are silver incriminated glass jars with heavily monogrammed lids of silver to beautify the porcelain jars that hold certain cheeses. They come in all sizes, and there are cheese scoops in proportion.

For large cheese that last for days there are special glass-topped dishes with silver base to prevent drying out. Some tops are of rock crystal, others entirely of chased silver; again, glass with silver overlay.

The Edam cheese is much more appetizing in its silver holder of narrow prongs and broad base, with deep silver scoop to match, than if served with its hard red rind on an ordinary plate. Just here the thoughtful hostess has portions of the cheese loosened in the shell, as manipulating the scoop at a crowded table is not easy.

Cheese balls, cheese squares, the cheeses passed whole and cut with a special cheese-knife, like Brie and Gorgonzola, have special flat dishes dedicated to their service. Sometimes they are of rock crystal, more often of crystals with silver rim or deep silver border, or their special platters in plain silver with open work border. Always there is the long-handled, cheese fork to facilitate service.

Crackers are passed separately, but some hostesses prefer the compartment dish made to accompany the salad course. This comes in rich China, especially in Dresden; also in chased silver. Some have a handle, like a basket, others are on pedestals like a divided compote.

In these compartments go cheese, with its fork lying across it, hard-boiled, a small spoon and crackers. Often two kinds of cheese are served.

SEEKS INFORMATION IN REGARD TO CITY SEALER

Mayor of Eau Claire Writes to City Clerk Cummings Asking Regarding Practices in This City.

City Clerk H. M. Cummings this morning received from John H. Fleming, mayor of the city of Eau Claire, an inquiry regarding the office of sealer of weights and measures in this city. The Eau Claire mayor sought information as to the time demanded and the amount of salary received. The inquiry, the latter stated, was based on the assumption that in the smaller cities the officer's entire time would not necessarily be taken up in his official demands and seeks to ascertain whether a small salary for actual time or a large salary for full time with services in other lines when possible, is involved in the ordinance to provide for standard weights and measures.

The Chiropractor is like the man with the crowbar lifting a heavy weight to remove an obstacle which has fallen and retards the wheels of commerce. The Chiropractor releases the vertebrae from its tilted position which causes the pressure on the nerve passing through the small hole in the vertebrae to that point of the body where the disease is present, thus bringing back the natural flow of energy from the brain down along the spinal column to that particular point permitting Nature to return you to Health.

Chiropractic is so simple that it is easily comprehended. We should like an opportunity of illustrating to you the way in which the nerves reach the various parts of the body and the course they pursue from the spinal cord through the spinal column. Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 27.—An address has been issued by the delegation of the republican convention by a committee composed of Roberts, Toney, Trumbull, Keld and Palmer, saying that they are informed that the union home party are endeavoring to exclude them from the convention and they claim they are the only regular delegates from New York City.

OLDEST CIVIL WAR VETERAN IN JURED.—COL. EDWARD I. GOLDSMITH.

Lynn, Mass.—Col. Edward I. Goldsmith, reputed to be the oldest living veteran of the Civil War in the New England states, has just celebrated his 100th birthday. He is a man of remarkable vitality which has enabled him to not only live past his three score years and ten, but has aided his complete recovery from a fracture of two ribs received last spring. He is now laid up with another accident, which his friends hope will not be serious. He fell, fracturing his right hip and suffering bruises about the face and head. Until the accident he had made a habit of a daily constitutional walk of at least one mile. In 1869 he was appointed Colonel on the staff of Commander-in-Chief, William Van Runt of the U. S. A. R. who was then Governor of Minnesota. He is a member of Post 6, G. A. R. Lynn.

A Lead Pencil Danger.

In the United States the danger of putting pencils in the mouth has long been recognized, and in all the schools every precaution is taken to prevent the interchange of pencils as well as the moistening of them with the lips. A great many children and even their elders, who ought to know better, persist in putting pencils in their mouth regardless of the risk they run.

Memory Training for Witnesses.
It has been suggested that it would be a good plan for courts to enforce a law of memory cure upon a large number of the witnesses who make their appearance in some of the big cases. Perhaps the correspondence schools would make a reduction for job lots and cut down on the fee.

VAGABOND APPEARS ON SCENE AGAIN WITH NEW VIEWS

HAS NEW VIEWS ON MATTERS OF CIVIC UNITY AND PROGRESS.

SEES SOME CHANGES

Thinks Street Signs a Big Improvement—Repairs on Streets Also Noted.

"Janesville is really growing," was the opening remark of the Vagabond as he appeared in the editor's office this morning after an absence from the city of many months. "Yes, it is not only growing but it is taking on decided city airs. I have a few lines written which you can use if you wish and here they are." Then he was gone and the communication he left appears below:

"I have traveled over a goodly portion of the western section of the country since I left Janesville, have dipped into the Unclz and foraged with friends of bygone days who now live in California, but nowhere in my travels have I found a city that I could call my home as does Janesville. Jack London may talk of the call of the wild, but the wanderlust of Janesville residents always ends in their returning to their native hearth. "Since leaving I find Janesville has gone ahead with civic improvements. New cars are running on a new schedule on the street car tracks, the interurbans come in on the east side of the river and really the city has taken on metropolitan airs with its corner lights, gas and electric, at Main and Milwaukee streets. Too bad that the council did not order them placed all along Milwaukee street and North and South Main. However, that will come later and I am told that the business men have not yet given up hope of making the downtown district Janesville beautiful.

"I wandered out to the old fair grounds and imagine my surprise at the changes there. Now fencing, new rice trucks, grandstand repaired and I am told that several good matinee races have already been held and that others are contemplated. Good for Janesville. The next thing we know we will have a county fair there each year to draw people here from all parts of the county and southern Wisconsin.

"The gentlemen who engineered the purchase of this park and dedicated it to the amusement loving public looked into the future a long ways and will see the great benefits that accrue from their wise movement. All that is lacking now is ample facility to reach the grounds, but I am told that the street car line contemplates an extension of their line to the grounds and this will remedy that fault.

"Speaking about the street car lines, I found that nowadays you can really go somewhere on the local city line. The extensions, the new running schedule, the new tracks, the crowding at Academy street and doing away with the jolly old track in the first ward, will all tend to popularize the line. It is a good move and the financiers behind the company should be encouraged to keep the good work up.

"One of the most notable improvements I found was the street signs. They are neat and tidy, give the stranger the exact idea of location and were much needed. They look as though they would wear well and not become rusty and dirty from rain and weather. It is little things like these that help a city to grow.

"I was surprised at one thing, however, and that was the fact that there is no real enforcement of the law relative to the speeding of autos. I thought this was settled months ago, but I still had to jump and dodge moving cars just as I did before I left for my lone journey. Another thing is the turning of corners by autos. In all the cities I have visited the law relative to the auto blowing a horn and turning out at certain angles when rounding a corner are enforced. In Janesville they cut corners as does the small boy running home to supper.

"The Twilight club's poetry contest has been awarded since I left. I walked around the city and viewed some of the prize gardens and if they were all grown by the little people, cared for and watered by them, it has been a grand success. I doubt, however, if this be true in every case, but still it helped make Janesville a city beautiful and should be encouraged.

"I was also pleased with the condition of the streets. They look clean and well cared for. I am sorry that work has again been delayed on Center avenue, but if this street is to be improved it should be done right, or not at all. The delay may really mean that we will have a fine street there after all. I also noted that North bluff street was being improved. I trust this will continue the whole length of it to the city limits. It has long been a disgrace to the entire community.

"The present street commissioner is a hustler. I talked with him a moment and found he knew his business. It is best to place a practical man in this position than to waste city funds by political appointments. There is not much money at the disposal of the street department and the work must sometimes have been heart breaking to do something with nothing, but our present street commissioner seems to have learned this secret.

"I am told that the Industrial and Commercial club plan for a grand display of 'Goods made in Janesville' in the near future. There are many here who remember the old days of the mid-winter fair and its success and the idea is a good one. Boost Janesville is a good motto, just as good as the one, 'You'll Succeed in Janesville.' Keep up the good work.

"In one of the western cities I visited I asked a school teacher about fire drills and she said that they have them every few days. That they consider them so essential to the students that it is a part of their school orders. For the curiosity of the thing I asked a small friend of mine who attends a Janesville school if they had had a fire drill this year and she shook her head and said in surprise, 'What is that?' I know The Gazette has always advocated this fire drill system so add this to my letter. I am glad to be back and glad to see the city has improved. Let it keep up." VAGABOND.

STATE DELEGATES NAMED TO ATTEND IRRIGATION MEET

Gov. McGovern in Recent Letter To Congress Headquarters Gives Names of Delegates To Coming Session.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 27.—Governor McGovern writes in a recent letter to the headquarters of the National Irrigation Congress, that he has appointed delegates to the congress. They are invited to act as an advisory committee with which the officers of the irrigation congress can cooperate in making its coming meeting here, December 6 to 9, of the greatest benefit to Wisconsin.

Members of the delegation appointed by the governor are: Henry Krumrey, Plymouth; Paul Huxting, Mayville; John J. Blaine, Boscobel; Otto Hoshard, La Crosse; W. H. Gaylord, Milwaukee; Otto Onstad, Cambridge; J. H. Kamper, Frankville; L. L. Johnson, Forestville; O. P. Roessler, Fort Ackerson; A. H. Long, Prairie du Chien; W. J. Gibby, Milwaukee; H. L. Russell, Madison; Mrs. H. L. Russell, Madison.

"Save the forests, store the floods, reclaim the deserts, make homes on the land," is the motto of the National Irrigation Congress and clearly sets forth its objects. Of particular interest is the consideration the congress will give at this session to reclamation by drainage.

This year its sessions are held simultaneously with the United States Land & Irrigation Exposition and the International Live Stock Show. These three big events offer unusual opportunities for communities to make known their advantages to hundreds of thousands of prospective farmers and settlers, and that interested states might make the most of these opportunities the suggestion was made that their governors appoint advisory committees.

TO FURNISH SERUM TO STATE DOCTORS

University of Wisconsin Will Supply Physicians Who Desire It With Anti-typhoid Vaccine.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Madison, Wis., Sept. 27.—Anti-typhoid vaccine will be supplied to Wisconsin physicians free of charge by the state hygienic laboratory at the University of Wisconsin, beginning December 1, according to the announcement just made by Dr. H. P. Hayswood, head of the department of bacteriology at the state university, and director of the laboratory.

When the vaccine is ready for distribution at that time full directions for its use will be issued, and only conditions being that the requests must come from registered physicians in Wisconsin, and that such physicians agree to make a report of the results to the laboratory.

To prevent the spread of typhoid it is recommended that where one case of typhoid fever occurs in a family, the other members be vaccinated promptly. In the distribution of the vaccine the authorities of the hygienic laboratory desire to secure the co-operation of physicians generally, and with that end in view are requesting that suggestions be made by practicing physicians before the distribution begins, December 1.

The decision of the director of the hygienic laboratory to furnish anti-typhoid vaccine grows out of the success which has attended its use in the United States army, where the results have been so striking that the Secretary of War, acting on the advice of the Surgeon General, has made anti-typhoid vaccination compulsory for all officers and enlisted men under 45 years of age. Before it was made compulsory, 17,000 officers and enlisted men had been vaccinated voluntarily. During the recent mobilization of troops in Texas, when the men were in camp for more than two months, under war conditions, only one case of typhoid resulted, that of a teamster who had not been vaccinated. This was in striking contrast to the Spanish-American war when within a period of three and one-half months there were 20,068 cases with 1,580 deaths.

PROTESTED AGAINST WILSON ATTENDING BREWERS' MEETING

Nebraska Methodist Episcopal Conference Adopted Resolutions Against Presence of Secretary of Agriculture At Beer Men's Gathering.

(BY UNITED PRESS)

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 27.—Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson regards it his duty to be present and take part in the International Brewer's congress to be held in Chicago soon, despite the fact that the conference of the Methodist church in Nebraska protested to President Taft against a member of his cabinet affiliating with the makers of beer. Secretary Wilson was elected chairman of the coming convention.

The following communication was sent President Taft by the Methodist conference:

"William H. Taft, President of the United States, Washington, D. C. "The lay electoral conference of Methodist-Episcopal church of Nebraska, has unanimously adopted resolutions protesting against a member of your cabinet presiding at the International Brewers meeting at Chicago, thus identifying your administration with the liquor interests. The conference directs me to wire you this information. (Signed)

"James A. Brown, Secretary." In answer Mr. Wilson sent the following:

Came Down in the World. The extraordinary vicissitudes of nomenclature that a yacht may pass through are well illustrated by a craft that is still afloat. At the start she proudly bore the name of the haughty Irish princess Isolda. From that to Duffer seemed the limit, but now she is known as the Poodle.

A Financial Epigram. "H. H. Rogers," said a New York broker, "always advised young men to get hold of capital. He used to point out to them that without capital a man could do nothing, nothing. He used to pack this truth into a very neat epigram. 'Fortune,' he used to say, 'can't knock at the door of a man who has no house.'"

further says:
(in The AMERICAN MAGAZINE)

"We have long rested comfortably in this country upon the assumption, that because our form of government was democratic, it was, therefore, automatically producing democratic results.

"Now, there is nothing mysteriously potent about the forms and names of democratic institutions that should make them self-operative. Tyranny and oppression are just as possible under democratic forms as any other. It is only as those of every generation who love democracy resist with all their might the encroachment of its enemies, that the ideals of representative government can even be nearly approximated."
